

PARENTS CODE OF CONDUCT

Parents are encouraged to:

Be familiar with the coaching and training programme so that they can ensure that their child is fully involved and the coaches are aware of their availability.

Be familiar with the teaching and coaching methods used by observing the sessions in which their child participates.

Be involved with club activities and share their expertise.

Share concerns, if they have them, with club officials.

Be familiar with the Good Code of Conduct & The Core Values.

Encouraging young players to behave with dignity in all circumstances.

It is important that parents support coaches in instilling these virtues.

Parents should:

Remember that young people play rugby for their own enjoyment, not that of their parents.

Encourage young people to play do not force them.

Focus on the young players efforts, rather than on winning or losing.

Make sure that the club has your contact details and health forms, and that for insurance purposes your child is fully registered with the club.

Provide positive verbal feedback both in training and during the game.

Remember that persistent, negative messages will adversely affect the players and referees performance and attitude.

Always support the rugby club in their efforts to eradicate loud, coarse and abusive behaviour from the game.

Remember young people learn much by example.

Always show appreciation of good play by all young players both from your own club and the opposition.

Respect decisions made by the match officials and encourage the young players to do likewise.

Remember players are taking part for enjoyment. Rugby should be fun.
